SEPTEMBER 2009

THE MASTER'S MESSAGE

Brethren;

Where did the summer go? More importantly it seems like we need an additional month of darkness. The lodge may have not held any meetings in the building but we definitely have been out and about promoting our lodge and more importantly our fraternity.

The outlook for lodge activities this fall and early winter will be many and busy. I have tried to include all Masonic events / activates to the end of the year. It's not that I am trying to plan my way out of the East, but rather there are some important dates which need the additional time such that everyone has an opportunity to save the date.

I encourage all of you that have not recently checked out our web site to do so (www.horacechase.org). Bro. Dan Salo has been the key individual to keep the site "alive" and up to date. We are very fortunate to have an individual like Bro. Salo, who not only keeps it current but adds items on a regular basis. Should you have any suggestions on the web feel free to contact Dan or myself.

Once again Horace Chase Lodge will host the Annual Lodge of Instruction on Friday September 25th. For those of you that have not been in a awhile it is open to all Master Masons and the Grand Lodge runs this instructional event. There is always good food, interesting presentations, but most importantly great fraternal fellowship. Also Grand Lodge will have books and other material to sell at reasonable prices.

Lastly have you attended one of our monthly Saturday breakfast's held at lodge? If not you should try and attend one in the upcoming months. The breakfast's have had excellent turnouts and has been good to see various members who find a day event easier to attend than a weeknight . It is open to your family and friends and just requires to bring an item to share. The next breakfast will be on September 26th.

Fraternally,
Peter Crouch
Worshipful Master
