The Master's Message

Brethren,

Some words in the English language can have striking similarities and at the same time be completely different. Two of those words are honor and respect. On one hand, these two words go hand in hand with each other, and on the other, they separate and each form its own deeper meaning.

Honor can mean to hold someone in high esteem or have deep respect for. But if we examine a deeper meaning, we find that it also means to fulfill an obligation or keep an oath.

Respect can mean to have a feeling of deep admiration for someone or something, elicited by their abilities, qualities, or achievements. Again if we look further, then we see that respect is to have due regard for the feelings, wishes, rights, or traditions of others.

This month we combine all meanings of these two words into one event: our Veterans and Special Ladies Program for 2020 (postponed from December 2020). We hold our Veteran members in high esteem and know that they have much to teach us if we listen. Our Special Ladies are sometimes the last link we have to those Brothers gone before us. The regard in which we hold these Ladies continues the history we had with their husbands and reminds them that we were not just a Lodge but a family that takes care of its own.

We must look at this program as more than just a duty, but as a privilege that we get to serve these honorees and continue to show them grace, Brotherly love, and a lasting tribute to those who have served us.

Your friend and Brother,

Wil
